

Stillinsplan IMV Comments

Stan Hawkins

Well aware that IMV has changed through its recruitment policy and strategy in the recent years, I feel that the post Music and Society can be dropped. This post is now redundant by the recent popular music appointee, as well as the specialist interests of a number of other colleagues. Given the drain on resources as a result of RITMO, I feel that the areas related to production and technology need to be prioritized and boosted. Otherwise I am fully supportive of the ranking of posts as they stand on the list today.
