

4-HOUR WRITTEN EXAMINATION
NFI4120 - Old Norse Language and Text

Fall 2023

Time: December 11th, 3 pm (4 hours).

--- The exam consists of two main parts (translations and grammar questions), with several sub-questions in each part. All questions must be answered. ---

Recommendations:

1. Read through the whole exam before you start answering the questions, in order to be able to distribute the time appropriately. Give yourself time to answer all questions.
2. You will get points for all sub-questions, so make sure to answer all questions.
3. If you struggle to give a concrete answer to any of the grammar questions, you are welcome to explain your thinking and reflect on the grammatical difficulties you encounter.

The following dictionaries are allowed:

Zoëga, Geír T. A Concise Dictionary of Old Icelandic.

Heggstad, Leiv et al. Norrøn Ordbok.

You find the exam questions on the following pages.

Good luck!

Part I. Translations. Translate to ‘normal’ English, but if you choose to translate a bit freely, make sure to explain or show that you understand what the word actually means.

Part II. Grammar

3. Mutations (both texts):

- 3.1. Give the main characteristics of I- and U-mutations. (1 point for each = 2 TOTAL)
3.2. Give two examples of each from any of the two texts and explain where the mutation comes from. (1 point each = 4 TOTAL)

- I-mutations: dagr – degi; vella - vall
- U-mutations: ískaldr – ísköld;

4. Nouns (text 1):

- 4.1. List all the nouns in the first three lines, up to “...ok svá hlekkirnir”
- degi – dat m sg of dagr; at takes dat. + time (1 + 0,5 + 0,5; 0,5; 0,5 = 3 TOTAL)
 - vinviðinn – acc m sg of vinviðr; direct object
 - kapellunni – dat f sg of kapella; yfir + location
 - viðr – nom m sg of viðr; subject in the sentence
 - jörðu – dat f sg of jörð; á + location
 - munnlauginn – this is conjugated as nom m sg + def. article, but mundlaug is f., so it should have been munnlauðin – NB! shall I ‘correct it’ to make it easier for them?
 - gulli – dat n sg of gull; af takes dat.
 - hlekkirnir – nom m pl hlekkir; subject in the sentence.

4.2 What is the nominative form of the nouns? What is the case, gender and number that these nouns have in the text? Explain why these cases are used in these instances.
